

The American Diabetes Association and the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation
Los Angeles Chapters
present:

Taking “Control” Out of Diabetes

Jessica Bernstein, Psy.D.

Psychologist Specializing in Type 1 Diabetes
“Blood & Honey” Documentary Director/Producer
Living with Type 1 Diabetes for 38 Years

TIME: Thursday, November 11, 2010, 8:00 to 10:00 p.m.

PLACE: Fairfax High, 7850 Melrose Avenue, Los Angeles, CA 90046

As discussed in both The Los Angeles Times and S.F. Chronicle, Psychologist Jessica Bernstein presents a fresh perspective about a new way of approaching diabetes care that could improve the psychological experience of diabetes for anyone diagnosed with Type 1 or 2 diabetes.

This talk includes a preview of raw footage from the film project "Blood & Honey" about diabetes, which is still in production. The event is open to the public at no cost. Donations to fund the film are appreciated but not required. See bloodandhoney.org/talks.html for details about parking.

For more information: www.bloodandhoney.org
Contact or RSVP Jessica Bernstein: jessica@bloodandhoney.org dedicated to finding a cure

